THE BANGOR SAVINGS BANK

STATEMENT OF ITS PERFECT SOLVENCY BY THE STATE BANK EXAMINER

The depression of business ... and the numerous failures of savings institutions throughout the country has created more or less anxiety and distrust on the part of depositors in savings banks ... [illegible] ... the realization from investments has been based. In common with other institutions of the kind the Bangor Savings Bank has felt more or less of this pressure ... and for the purpose of allaying apprehension ... and avoiding an unnecessary sacrifice upon assets at a time when the values are temporarily so depressed the Trustees have requested Hon W. W. Bolster the State Bank Examiner to make a thorough investigation of its affairs and report the facts publicly to its depositors. The duty has been performed and we give herewith the Examiner's reassuring and specific statement that the institution is beyond all question solvent ... can pay all its liabilities dollar for dollar. The figures given show the exact condition of its finance and depositors will readily perceive that the requirement of the statute ... is simply calculated to protect the interests which would be impaired by forcing the bank to realize on a forced sale ... No property could judiciously be forced upon the market at this time irrespective of special demand without involving ... and the assets of savings bank form the property as an investment of the depositors. The Examiner shows that notwithstanding the losses from depreciation of values and otherwise the gains of the bank from other investments have more than offset them and that even at market rates it has a clear surplus over all liabilities. By affording reasonable time to turn investments to the best account this surplus may be largely increased and it is the interest of every depositor to co-operate with their trustees in measures to insure not only the protection but the legitimate increase of the assets. The following is State Examiner Bolster's official report:

To the Depositors of the Bangor Savings Bank —

Representing and acting for and in behalf of the depositors and with a view to ascertain and reassure myself as regards the solvency of this Bank at the request of the Trustees I have made a thorough and careful examination of its affairs, and can assure the depositors that the institution is beyond all question solvent, and can pay all its liabilities dollar for dollar. To do this I must necessarily take time. Depositors should bear in mind that a large portion of their deposits are invested in real estate and mortgages on real estate many of which are not now payable, but are on time from one to five years from the present date.

That the Bank has suffered losses from the depreciation of real estate, and on one portion of its railroad bonds is conceded. The amount of loss on railroad bonds has been ascertained by sale of the European & North American Railroad bonds which has been effected since my last annual examination and is $137,32.00 — The shrinkage on real estate is estimated at $... 11 on mortgage real estate loans 85 000. It is believed that this estimate will cover the entire loss on this class of security. Notwithstanding this large loss the bank has received large gains from other investments so that it overcomes the losses sustained and to-day is solvent with a surplus above actual liabilities and only requires that these assets be judiciously disposed of to meet full liabilities with fair dividends in the future.

Depositors ... are aware to force a sale of the assets especially real estate at the present depression ... would result in ... loss of property ... [illegible] ... to the depositors ... [illegible] ... the Trustees ... [illegible] ... the depositors ... [illegible]

By some accident the date was telegraphed Concord when it should have been Franklin a small town of 2 300 population with but two delegates. The delegates in Concord have not yet been elected and the ward caucuses will be held Friday Saturday and Monday evenings next.

A CARD.

Last October after nearly five years of my protracted labor in the editorial office of the NORTHERN BORDER, and as I hoped and intended for the benefit of Bangor—my wife's health, shattered by hemorrhage of the lungs in midsummer required her removal for the winter to a softer climate. This necessity had been known for months by my associates and family, and to this end I had been making open preparation within the knowledge of all I had to do with during the whole season intervening. My departure was delayed for weeks by the failure of one and the consequent embarrassment of another of the three acting owners of the paper, and these weeks were spent in devising ways and means for the continued publication of ... To Our Patrons and the Public.

More than two years ago we commenced trade in our present location determined to do a strictly cash business, buying our goods direct of importers and manufacturers for ... and owning them at the lowest price possible ... selling only for cash ... to ... this having ... ourselves against losses by the credit system ... now no experiment with us but after years of trial we have become more satisfied ... than ever to ... under any circumstances ... from it. Owing to this mode of doing business we have been able to sell the very best goods at very low prices intending to make up in the increase of sales for the smallness of our profits. Whether we have or have not succeeded in this we leave to our patrons to decide. Of one thing however we are certain. Our business has increased beyond our most sanguine expectation. Our object in issuing this card is to assure our friends and customers that the course heretofore ... will be pursued in the future ... in the year 1878 ... prepared to offer even greater bargains than ever before.

Warmly thanking our friends for favors received in the past and pledging ourselves to use our utmost efforts to deserve them in the future we end by wishing all a Happy New Year.

J A Engelhard Secretary of State declined to be present in the hall and address the assemblage because he did not think the negroes constitutionally freed and he would be doing violence to his conscience if he sanctioned the proceedings by his presence and making a speech.

LONDON, Jan 2. The anti war party is beginning to agitate the country for the purpose of checking the supposed aggressive tendency of the Cabinet. The Times urges the Liberal leaders to make their views known. It says unless something entirely beyond surmise has occurred to turn the Government from the views expressed by Mr Cross Home Secretary, in the Commons last session and by Derby to the deputation which recently waited upon him the Ministers would welcome support which adhesion to their views by all responsible statesmen would afford. The time for silence has passed and the hour for speech and for decided speech has come.

Outrages in Crete—The British Vice Consul Flees for Safety

NEW YORK, Jan 2. A London special says that there is great excitement to-day caused by sensational news from the Island of Crete. It appears that members of Christian families yesterday attempted to enter Retimo a small town of 4100 inhabitants on the north coast of the Island but were prevented by the populace who assaulted them sparing none, neither women or children. After driving the Christians back the Turks closed the gates of the town and then turned their attention to the British Vice Consul threatening his life and pursuing him with knives and [illegible] friendly shelter in the house of an other Consul. The Turkish soldiers quietly stood by during all the outrages perfectly inactive not attempting to stop the riotous disturbances. The British iron clad Rupert was at Athens yesterday and sailed last night for Retimo and it is believed England will take temporary possession of the Island with a view of preventing a repetition of the outrages.

It is now an acknowledged fact that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. It has been cured in a very great number of cases (some of them apparently desperate ones) by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone, and in others by the same medicine in connection with Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, one or both, according to the requirements of the case.

The old supposition that "Consumption is incurable", for many years deterred Physicians from attempting to find a remedy for that disease, and patients afflicted with it reconciled themselves to death without an effort being made to save them from a doom which was considered inevitable.

Dr Schenck himself was supposed at one time to be at the very gate of death, his Physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was CURED by the aforesaid medicines and afterward enjoyed uninterrupted good health for more than forty years. Thousands of people have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Schenck's Almanac, containing a thorough treatise on Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, &c., can be had gratis of any druggist, or of J. H. Schenck & Son, Philadelphia. Full directions for the use of Schenck's medicines accompany each package.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills are for sale by all druggists. jan1

SHOOTING AFFAIR

A Colored man Shoots a man in Camp—His arrest and Story

Last night at about twelve o'clock two of the police [illegible] on Grove street and arrested a colored man by the name of B J Wilson for shooting George Collins [illegible] at a camp about five miles out of the city on the old Veazie Railroad. Wilson who seems to be an inoffensive sort of fellow tells the following story in relation to the affair:

I have been cutting wood for one [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] to cut wood [illegible] commenced [illegible] myself. I lived in the same camp with Collins and some other parties. [illegible] We went out to work [illegible] and [illegible] Collins [illegible] with [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] At last he said you gather up your traps and leave [illegible] I said that I wanted nothing to eat and he told me that I could not have any of the grub and then told me to leave. I started for the door and he followed me pinning his gun at me. When I got outside I found a gun belonging to another colored man whom he had already driven off but I did not know it at the time. I picked the gun up with the intention of shooting over his head as he was still snapping his gun at me, but some of the shot struck him. After awhile I came to the city and was in bed when the officers came after me.

It seems that the fellow first notified the officers himself, but they did not think his story true until two of them visited the camp where they found Collins badly wounded. They returned to the city and procured medical aid and returned to the camp again. The physician found one shot had lodged in his chin, two in his neck, one in his body, two in his right hand and one in his left arm. He removed the shots and dressed the wounds and expressed the opinion that Collins was not dangerously injured.

West Waterville

Samuel Hersom of this village recently killed a hog 18 months old that weighed 600 pounds, and about the same time Mr Leonard slaughtered one that weighed 614. Among items from other towns of big eggs, quarts of milk, and other agricultural "big things" perhaps these hogs will appear respectable.

The Ladies Temperance Union of West Waterville held a New Year's entertainment at Mechanics Hall last Tuesday night. A "Dust-cap" sociable was one of the prominent amusements. The evening was highly enjoyed by all present, and the literary exercises and songs were excellent. The West Waterville cornet Band J. Wesley Gilman, Leader was present, adding to the enjoyment of the occasion. The Union is in a flourishing condition.

The Baptist Sunday School held a New Year's sociable at Memorial Hall, the night of the 1st which was generally attended by the people both old and young of that denomination.

A J Libbey was severely injured on the first inst by being thrown from his wagon near the depot. Though no bones were broken his bruises are of a very painful nature.

Business is quite good, some of our traders inform me their holiday trade was never better than this year. G

OUR WATER POWER.

Large Meeting at City Hall—Remarks by Mr Lockwood of Providence

City Hall was well filled Tuesday evening on the occasion of the meeting called to hear Mr Lockwood express his opinion in regard to our water power and [illegible] Among the audience were a large number of our most prominent and influential citizens including the entire City Government who adjourned their regular monthly meeting in order to be present.

The meeting was called to order by His Honor Mayor Hamlin who made a few brief and very appropriate remarks stating the object of the meeting and introduced Mr Lockwood of Providence who [illegible] has become familiar with the people of Bangor.

Mr Lockwood commenced by [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] ten to fifteen feet [illegible]

By building a [illegible] the [illegible] could [illegible] [illegible]

In answer to questions by gentlemen in the audience Mr Lockwood stated that he did not think that the [illegible] could be [illegible] advantageously on this side of the river. Though there were [illegible] objections to building a flume down the river [illegible] Bangor side to [illegible] [illegible] requiring 800 [illegible] there was no trouble whatever with the dam the rot below the water [illegible] top and bottom timbers not being [illegible] together. When this is done and the crib work is sufficiently loaded [illegible] there will be no further trouble.

Thought the dam was [illegible] to build it six feet higher. Thought the expense of a canal would be less than [illegible] in Providence as it was shorter and less than at Lewiston where it is [illegible] fourths of a mile long. His remarks did not apply to the dam at present [illegible] would be made for both heights.

The banks of the canal would not have to be built above the ground in case the dam was raised six feet. The height of the water in the canal is not governed by the height of the water, but the river. The variable height of the water in the river below the dam would be no objection to the power [illegible] calculations would be based on the fall at high tide. If the dam was raised six feet higher and a canal built 100 feet wide there would be power enough to carry from 125 000 to 175 000 spindles according to the kind of goods manufactured, which would employ about 5000 persons. The expense of buildings and machinery including counting house storehouses etc for 5000 spindles would be about $14 or $15 per spindle; the cost before the war was from $18 to $20 and during and since the war from $25 to $30 per spindle.

In reply to a question by Mr Hegary Mr Lockwood stated that the dam at its present height, supposing it to have a fall of 8 feet, average high water would furnish power to carry about one-half the number of spindles that it would if it had a fall of fourteen feet. In reply to a question by Mr Morrison, that assuming that the dam could not be built any higher if there would be any value to the surplus power which could not be used, Mr Lockwood stated that although he would not say that it was of no value, he thought we were very unfortunate if we were so situated would not be willing to indorse the suggestion of [illegible] the dam at its present height and not think it a common sense view to [illegible]

CARRIERS NEW YEAR'S ADDRESS

TO THE PATRONS OF THE

Bangor Daily Whig and Courier,

JANUARY 1 1878.

Another year its race has run,
A nother mile-stone passed
And with a fresh New Year begun
[illegible] with its fast
[illegible] any a spot along the way
[illegible] re and wonder,
And clinging hearts that fain would stay
[illegible] as under
But memory with its rapid glance
[illegible] each joy and pleasure
And safe from [illegible] and chance
Stores up for [illegible] its treasure
[illegible]
For memory w[illegible] its magic glass
[illegible] sweet shall waken

Somewhere beyond the whirl of time
[illegible] earthly scenes are fled
The soul eternal and sublime
[illegible] feast shall spread
Its guests [illegible] come from every [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] grasp shall [illegible] mly clasp
[illegible] loved and lost
[illegible] fallen [illegible] autumn leaves
[illegible] by early frost
[illegible]
[illegible] endeavor
[illegible] chances [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] bring its children to the light
Of its eternal day
For all of earth [illegible]
[illegible] will be complete
For all its [illegible]
That endless [illegible]

The world of life still onward flows
With every year's [illegible]
[illegible]
New struggles [illegible]
The cycle [illegible]
[illegible]
And adds the crash of war's dread blast
Death [illegible]

Perchance [illegible]
[illegible] will come
And o'er earth's troubled surface lo
[illegible] glad [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
When [illegible] Might shall [illegible] or Light
Its thousand years of peace

[illegible] on War [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
The Muscovite and Turk
All weary with the heavy blows
And weaken [illegible] its loss
[illegible] before the Cross

[illegible] the Balkan's range
In this his troubled hour,
The Turk to western Europe turns
And prays its balanced power
For this [illegible] the Porte
[illegible] rule
[illegible] Crescent [illegible]
[illegible] Istamboul

[illegible]
Looks at the Northern Bear
And [illegible] the plus and [illegible]
[illegible] lurks in German lair
Dark clouds are gathering [illegible]
Nor should we feel it strange
Should [illegible] with Germany
[illegible] of Europe [illegible]

[illegible] France and MacMahon

For [illegible] of kings away
[illegible] people [illegible]
[illegible]
May [illegible]
[illegible] Europe's sky
[illegible] French Republic's star

The red men of the western wild
[illegible] Uncle Sam much trouble
For wrongs inflicted on the race
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] wronged [illegible]
[illegible] from his promise [illegible]
Has [illegible]

[illegible] long and [illegible] with blood
[illegible] horror [illegible]
Whose last most dread [illegible]
Appears in Sitting Bull
When all the red man's wrongs are done
And ends his sadd[illegible] story
The setting of his [illegible]
Will [illegible] no glory

The horrors of the ocean wave
And terrors of the shore
Have overwhelmed the strong and brave
Amidst the tempest's roar
But death has love still watches oh
Unwearied by the main
For tidings of the lost and gone
[illegible]

How [illegible] generous flow
To succor and to pity
When conflagration all aglow
Swept o'er a loyal city
Despite all lines in pain and loss
The heart salutes its brother,
And stars and Stripes and George's Cross
Embrace and fold each other

Also winter knits its icy chains,
The poor must feel its terrors
O let not their neglected claims
Be found among our errors
The bright and lingering autumn days
Should hearts to kindness fashion,
O let not Nature in her ways
Surpass us in compassion!

The Christmas feasts and joyous chimes
In happy homes have blended,
But lessons of the Christmas times
Should nevermore be ended,
The heart may keep its garlands green
With Christian deed and love,
And ever in earth's life be seen
The life of Christ above

The old year's dead and hearts have bled
In homes where death has entered,
As light and life from earth have fled
Where heart and hope were centered
To memory dear on this New Year
Their name and fame belong
And we would place upon their bier
A little wreath of song

The glory of a finished life,
By earth's full measure bounded,
The outcome of the toil and strife,
With honored virtues rounded
Outlast the fleeting years of time
And walk the earth again,
To cheer the path with light divine
For all the sons of men

Farewell old year! we leave with thee
The burial of our sorrows,
With larger faith and heart more free,
We hail the bright to-morrows
What though the past to mortal eye
Grows ever faint and dim,
New hopes upspringing in the sky
Inspire our New Year's hymn!

THE "LOST ART" RECOVERED.

Galen the most celebrated physician, flourished in the second century His theory was that roots and herbs, properly compounded, are Nature's remedy His cures were so marvelous that he was accused of magic. His mighty skill and success induced his enemies, and his opinions held away in the medical world for centuries, until the art of compounding vegetable remedies was gradually lost in the thickening gloom of the middle ages, and poisonous mineral mixtures took its place But the clouds are breaking in our day, and the almost magical virtues of Vegetine fully attested by thousands stamp it as a true Galenical compound, and as a blood-purifier and health-restorer probably has had no equal since the days of Galen himself
